

Payments Simplified.

Thanks to the new QR-bill

The QR-bill will modernize Swiss payments. You are likely to come across it more and more often while clearing your mailbox. You will recognize the QR-bill by the Swiss QR Code. It contains all relevant information for a convenient, automatic and efficient payment.

The QR-bill will replace current payment slips as of 30 September 2022. For the time being, you may thus use both the traditional payment slips and the QR-bill to make your payments. The QR-bill consists of a payment part and a receipt. The Swiss QR Code in the middle of the payment part covers all information which is also visible in text form on the invoice.

A sample QR-bill. It replaces the existing payment slips.

As invoice recipient, you may pay the QR-bill in three ways:

Via e-banking: Open the e-banking application, scan the Swiss QR Code with the QR reader or integrated camera and release the payment with just one click

Via mobile banking: Open the mobile banking app on your smartphone, scan the Swiss QR Code with the QR reader and release the payment with a tap of a finger

Per mail: The QR-bill works like an existing payment slip and can be paid at a Swiss Post branch, at a branch with partner or by payment order in an envelope to the bank

And of course it is also quick and easy if you are using a business software

Swiss banks have adjusted their mobile banking and e-banking solutions for you to be able to scan your QR-bills in a convenient way – no matter if you are a private person or a company.

- Your Benefits: Efficiency Squared.
- The QR-bill and its digital possibilities will completely simplify payments. The benefits are clear:
- Simply convenient: Scanning the QR code is extremely easy.
 - Automatic and swift: All it takes is one click to release the payment
 - Efficient: No need to type account and reference numbers – this makes the payment process faster and reduces sources of error

The Cornerstone for Digitization of Payment Transactions.

By introducing the QR-bill and with active support of the Swiss economy and society, the Swiss financial center will lay the foundation for digital financial operations. At the same time, the QR-bill will bridge the paper-based and digital world, as it can be used both at the post office counter and for mobile banking and e-banking. The eBill goes one step further – it facilitates a seamless digital payment process already today. More information is available at: www.eBill.ch.
